

July 2015:

July daytime highs were above normal at Hillier and below normal at Cherry Valley. Overnight lows continued to average below normal. As a result, accumulated base 10 °C growing degree days were below normal for July. Accumulated growing degree days were similar to 2014 values at Cherry Valley and slightly above 2014 values at Hillier. Growing degree day total remained below 2013 values across the appellation. Rainfall across Prince Edward County was on average 64 % of normal for July. Daily rainfall totals 12 mm or less throughout the month.

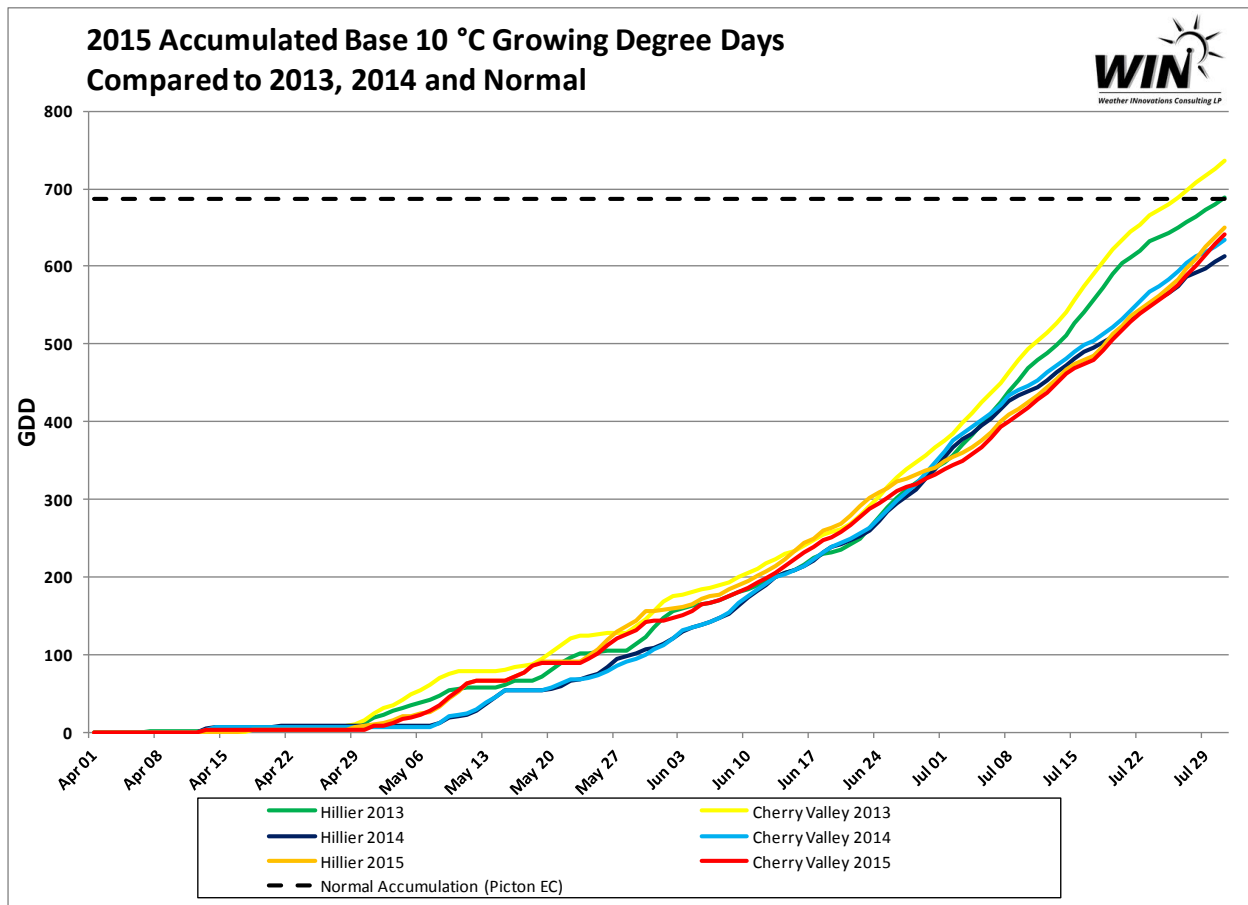

Figure 1: Growing Degree Days

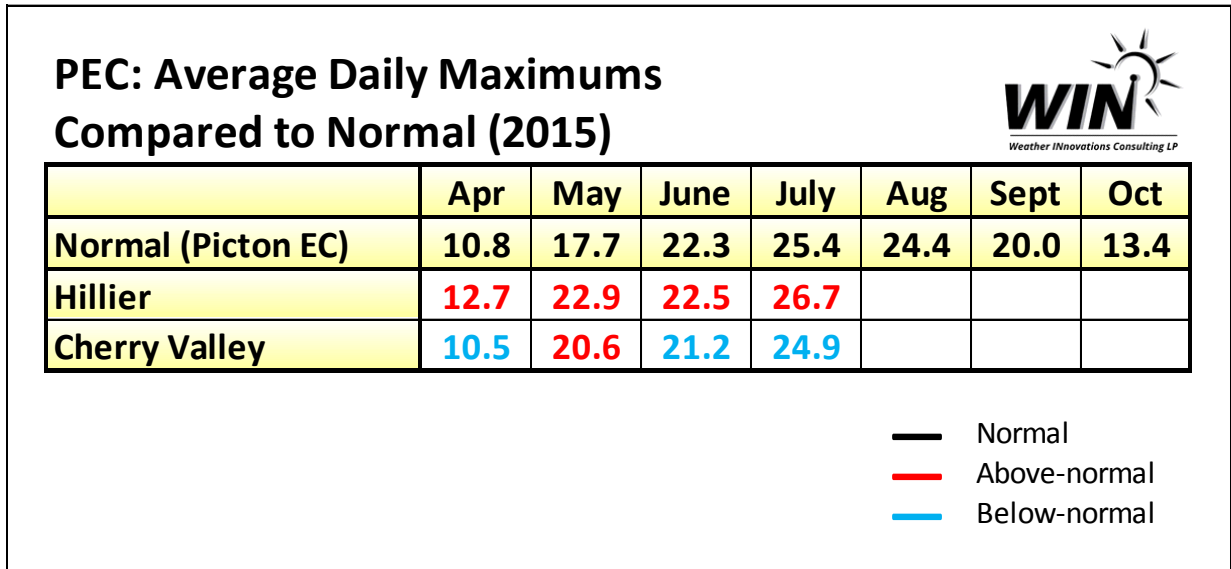

Figure 2: Maximum Temperatures

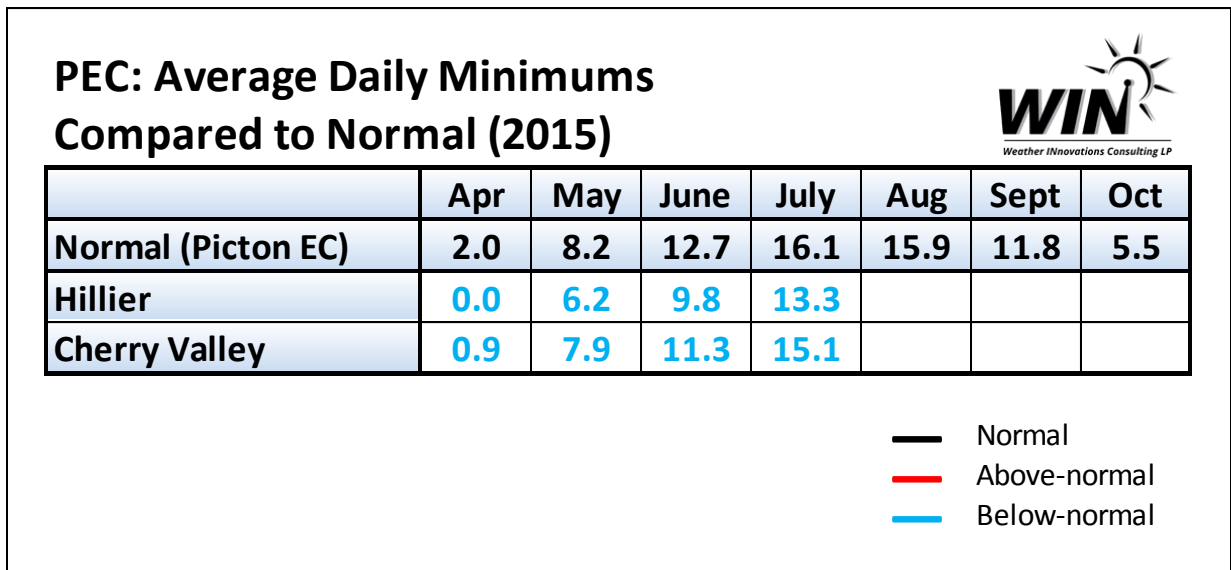

Figure 3: Minimum Temperatures

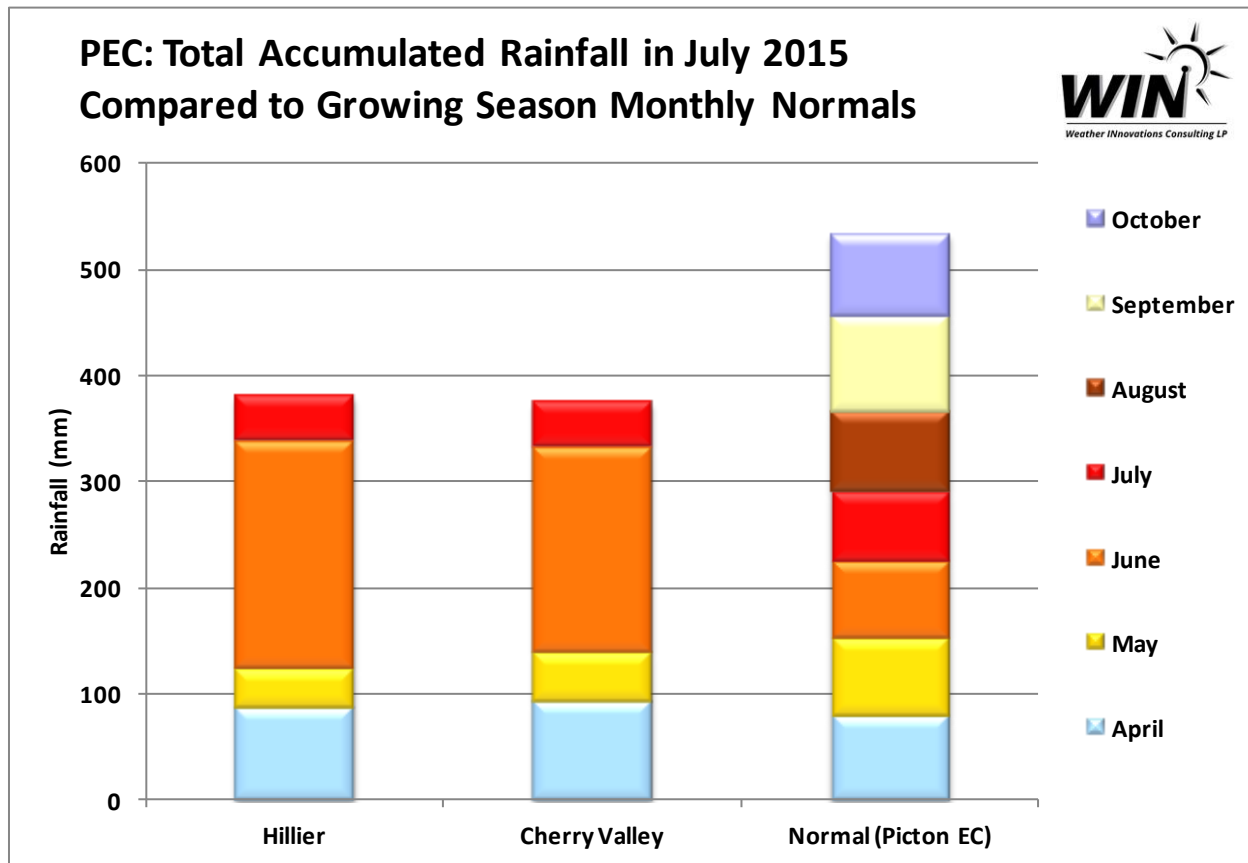

Figure 4: Rainfall