

June 2017:

In June, daytime highs averaged above normal at Hillier and below normal at Cherry Valley. Overnight low temperatures averaged at or below normal across the appellation. Accumulated base 10 °C growing degree days were below normal for June. Accumulated growing degree days were below both 2015 and 2016 values at Cherry Valley, and between 2015 and 2016 values at Hillier. Rainfall across Prince Edward County was on average 255 % of normal for June. Up to 91 mm of rain fell over the appellation on June 23.

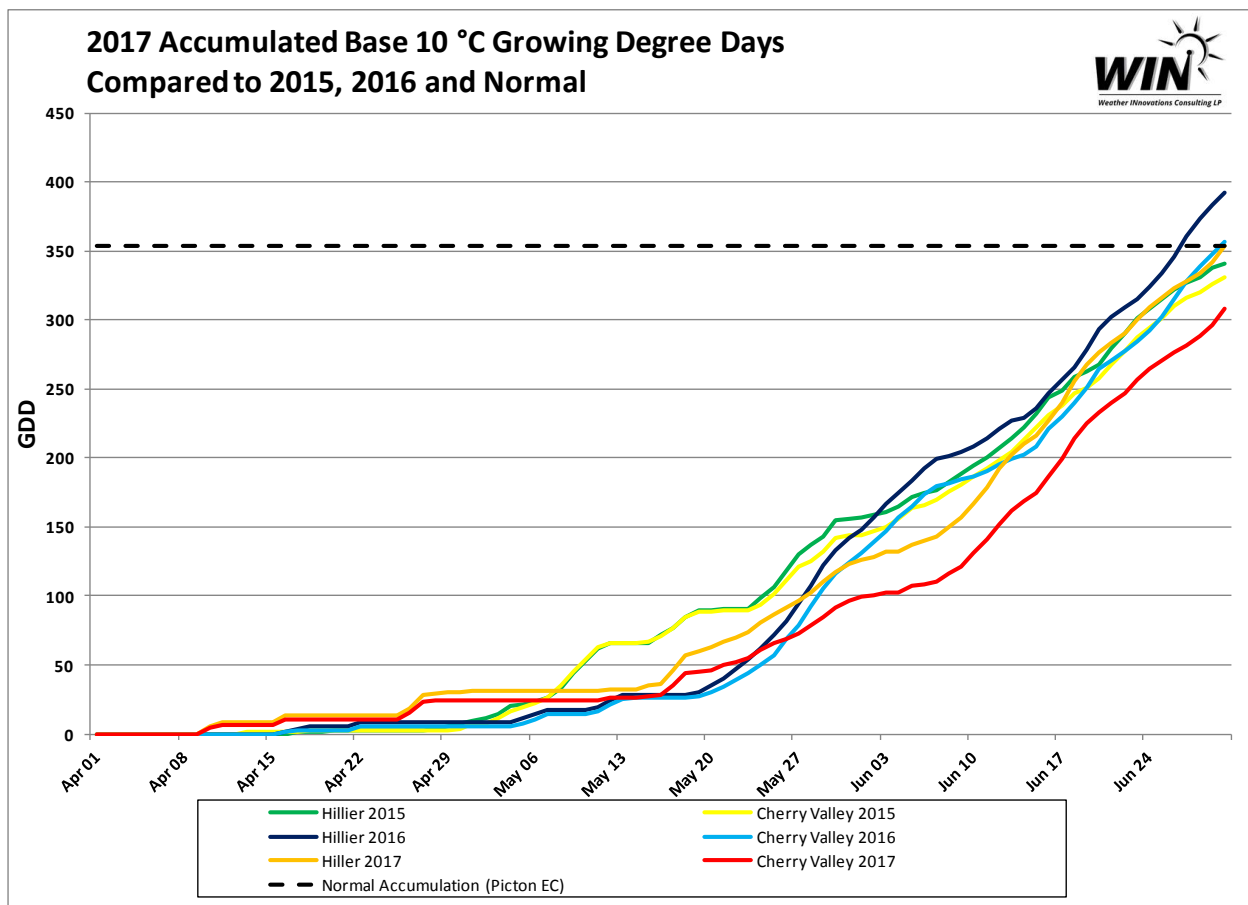

Figure 1: Growing Degree Days

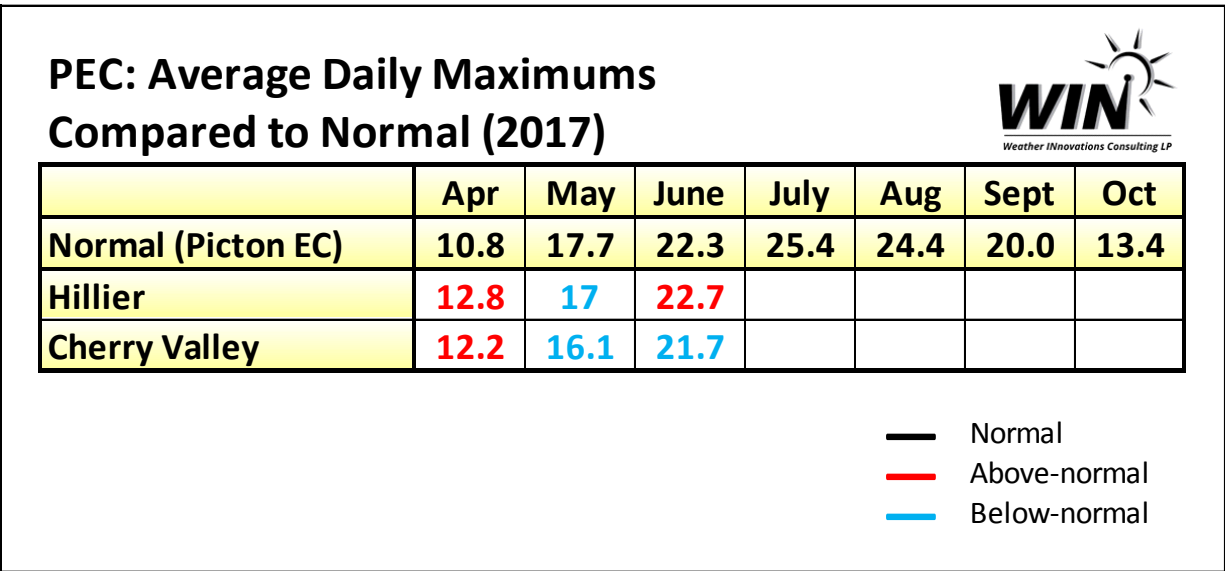

Figure 2: Maximum Temperatures

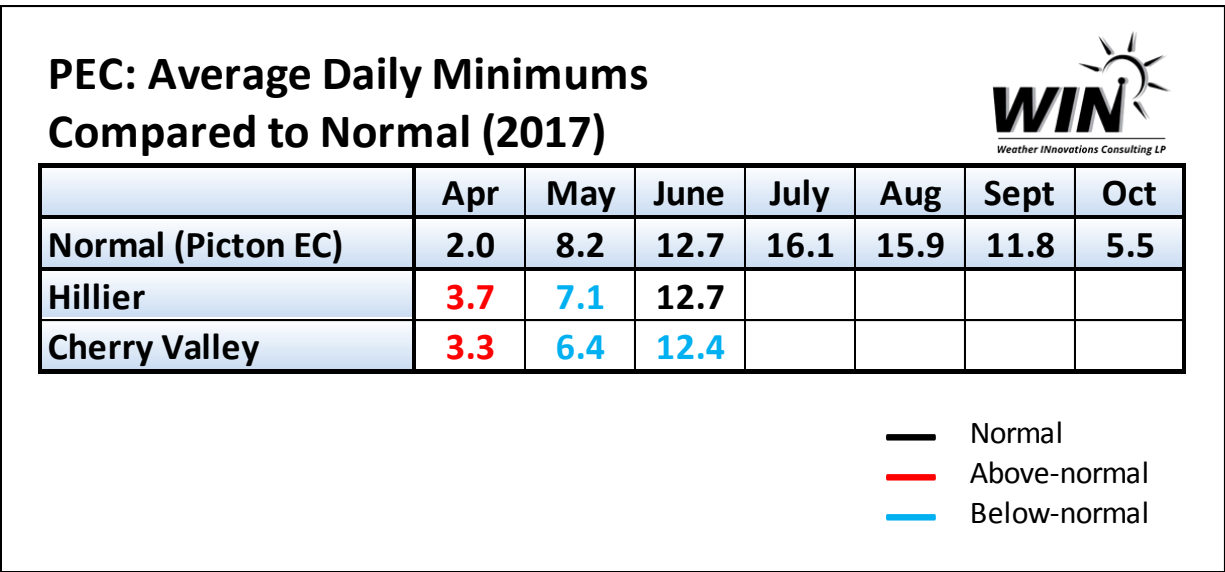

Figure 3: Minimum Temperatures

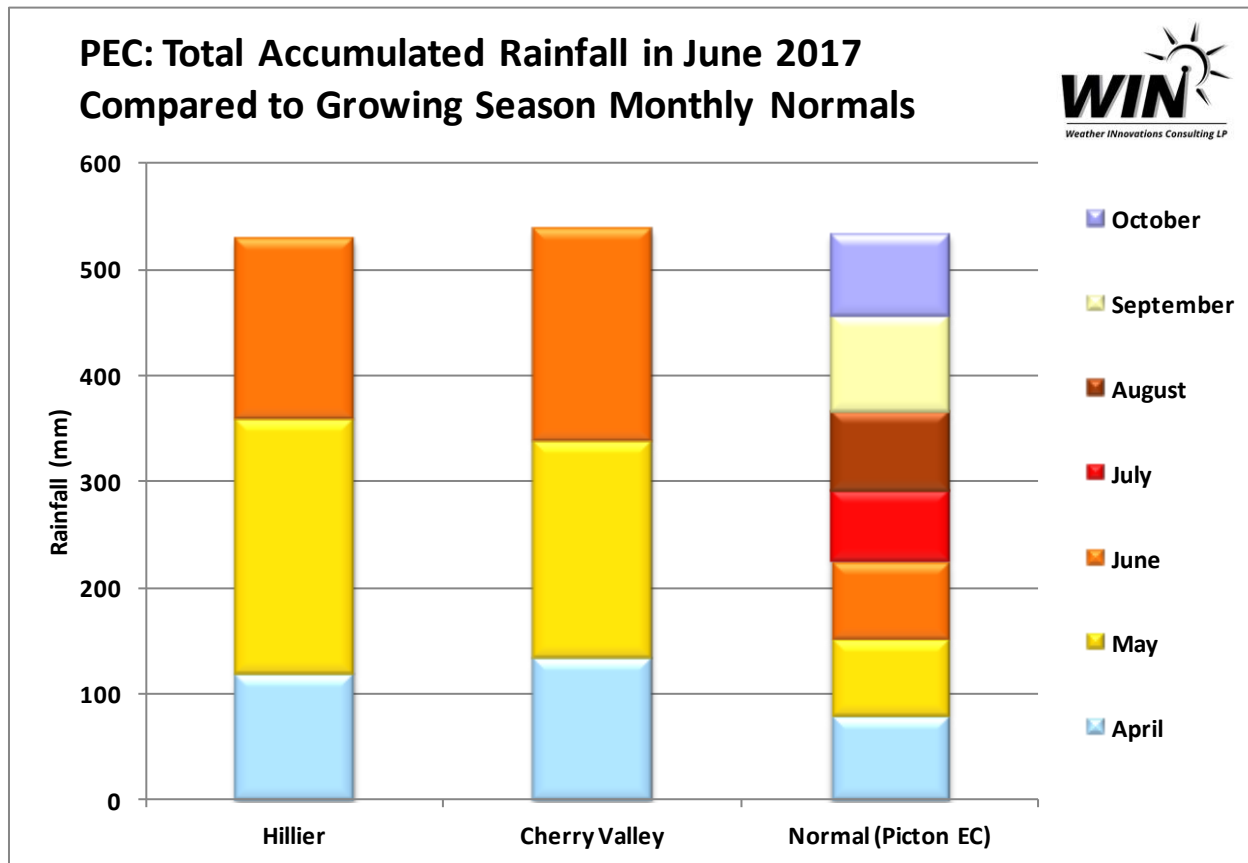

Figure 4: Rainfall